

Professor Keith Glaister

Colleagues will be sorry to learn of the death, on 1 October 2021, of Keith Glaister, Professor of International Business in the Leeds University Business School.

Keith had previously he spent 15 years at the University, between 1990 and 2005, as Professor of International Strategic Management, and was also Pro-Dean for Learning and Teaching within the Faculty. He moved to a post of Dean of the Management School at the University of Sheffield in 2005, before proceeding to Warwick Business School in 2013 where he was Associate Dean and Professor of International Business. Keith re-joined the University staff in 2017 where his areas of expertise were international joint ventures; cross border mergers and acquisitions; foreign direct investment and international strategies.

Once the funeral details are known, arrangements will be made to fly the flag on the Parkinson Building at half-mast in his memory. A tribute to Keith can be found on the British Academy of Management website (<https://www.bam.ac.uk/resource/professor-keith-glaister-fbam-rip.html>)
