

Media round-up: 5th December 2023

Our work in the news

- Lucy Hadley quoted in BBC article - Stella Creasy wants law change to remove malicious social services reports - Women's Aid's head of policy, Lucy Hadley said the survivors of violence and abuse they support are "routinely" subjected to "false allegations... made to discredit and undermine women". "There remain significant gaps in the skills and ability of the police and other statutory agencies to recognise this and respond effectively," she said. "It is essential that false and malicious allegations are responded to as the forms of abuse they are, not used to discredit and silence women in public life."

Social Media Update

Twitter:

- Victims and Prisoners Bill recommendations (18 likes, 10 retweets, 1,500 impressions)
- Releasing offenders from prison early response (154 likes, 86 retweets, 16,900 impressions)

Instagram:

- Fundraising video (9,470 views, 397 likes, 3 comments)
- Victims and Prisoners Bill recommendations (158 likes, 2 comments, 2,950 accounts reached)
- If you've been affected by 16 Days (440 likes, 4 comments, 10,831 accounts reached)

Facebook:

- Fundraising video (8 likes, 423 people reached)